Dixon, Franke Candidates For Carmel Council

Two prospective candidates for three vacancies on the city council, Michael Franke and James Dixon, obtained papers at City Hall this morning. Both were unsuccessful candidates for a position on the council in 1956.

Michael Franke, 40, a public accountant, has his offices on Dolores Street. He has lived in Carmel for 15 years.

This morning he stated that he is running for a council position again because he wants to "formulate plans on Carmel problems such as traffic, population and visitors."

He feels that the danger to "Carmel way of life standards" comes from within the city because of weakness and an inability to see meaning in decisions affecting the city.

If he is elected, he proposes to do what "the people want" and will endeavor to find out "what the people want." He is opposed to parking meters, any further encroachment on the special character of Carmel, wants stricter conrols of tree cutting and motel expansion.

Mr. Franke, looks forward to closer cooperation between the city council and the citizens. He feels business interests should be subordinate to the residential character of Carmel. Business should not be stifled, however, as Carmel "owes a lot to business," he main-

James Dixon, a retired Navy Chief Warrant Officer, says "I have the will, the urge and the time to do the job, if the people want me to." He admits Carmel is changing and "has ideas of his own" regarding the solution of Carmel's parking problem.

Mr. Dixon came to live in Carmel 13 years ago. He gave up the position of assistant engineer of

Seven New Registrars For Carmel Area

McMenamin Appoints

County Clerk Emmet McMenamin appointed seven registrars of voters for Carmel this week. Anyone who voted in neither the primary nor general election in 1958, or has changed residence must register before April 14 if he wishes to vote in the June 7 primary, before February 18, in the city election.

One may register at the Carmel Fire Department on Sixth Street, Patricia Lane's office on Dolores between Fifth and Sixth, at Irving Lundborg and Company, Dolores and Sixth between the hours of 10:30 and noon; city hall between 2:00 and 4:00 o'clock, with Mrs. Greene Chapman.

Also, the following members of the League of Women Voters will "go anywhere" to register persons who phone or write to them: Mrs. Elsa B. Wickham, Lazarro Drive; Mrs. Roxana Blanks, Tenth and Dolores; Mrs. Harriett H. Ferrante, Hatton Fields Road between Third and the Highway.

Because of lack of space, Stallings Stamp Shop on Dolores Street South of Ocean is no longer a place of registration.

Mr. McMenamin is interested in receiving applications from citizens to serve on election boards. They may phone, write or call at his office in the county court house in Salinas.

Teachers Ask For $40,000 Hike In Salary Budget

Last night Charles Moody, representing the Carmel Teachers Association, presented the school board with a proposed salary schedule which provides for $300 a year increase in four classifications, and $800 increase in a proposed new fifth bracket which requires a greater number of post bachelor degree semester units than the present top category.

This year's lowest category, $4500 would be upped to $4800 for 1960-61 school year; top flight teachers now receiving $8000 who qualify for the new fifth category would get $8800.

Mr. Moody suggested that the board meet with the teachers association salary committee informally to analyze the proposal.

The board decided on a study ticn committee to engage Ernest session, open to the public, to follow the regular meeting March 2.

This year's budget for 113 teachers' salaries is $750,536. Estimating on a basis of $300 raise across the board, with 15 teachers qualifying for the fifth classification and $800 raise, the increase in salary budget would be approximately $40,000

"We realize this is beyond the ability of the board in view of expected revenue," Moody said. "We are offering this schedule as a basis of discussion rather than real expectation."

Board Member George Yates, apparently thinking some of the money for teachers' raises might be found in economies in other budget items, asked how much increase in meal charges to students would be required to wipe out the $11,000 deficit in cafeteria operations, which is now borne by the school district. The staff will have data on the subject the next meet-

Council Sets February 29 Hearing On Appeal Of Fenton Plaza Gas Pumps

Councilmen set a special hearing to be held at 8:00 o'clock February 29 to consider an appeal against the planning commission's approval yesterday afternoon of a gas station in the proposed Fenton Plaza parking garage. (See story below.)

The commission had ruled that the pumps were allowable in the

Mistake Not To Do What Residents Want, Mrs. MacGregor Comments On Planners' O. K. Of Fenton Gas Pumps

Carmel planning commissioners yesterday afternoon voted 5-1 in favor of a gas station as an accessory use to the two-level parking garage proposed for the Fenton Plaza. Mrs. Jessie MacGregor cast the only dissenting vote.

Five conditions governing the gas station were read by Commissioner Herbert Blanks. They were included in a committee report prepared by him and Commissioner Fred Keeble. The latter was absent from the adjourned board of adjustments meeting yesterday,

The conditions are: the gas station must be within the confines of the parking garage; the station must be screened from the street; the station may not advertise separately on the exterior of the building and no articles for sale may be so displayed or advertised; the parking garage must provide for not less than 160 cars; any plans for the parking garage and gas station may not be modified except to conform to the above stated conditions.

Mrs. MacGregor prefaced her negative vote with a statement that she thought the gas station violated the preamble to the master plan and the established policy of the planning commission, by disregarding the wishes of the citizens in a predominantly residential city.

"It is a bad mistake not to do what the taxpayers and residents want," she declared.

Mrs. MacGregor was referring to protests made against the gas station by the Citizens Committee, also Dale Leidig, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leidig and Mrs. Mary Goold. The last four have engaged attorneys to fight the gas station.

Prior to the vote, Admiral C. W. Fisher, chairman of the Citizens Committee, reiterated this group's opposition to the gas station, formally presented as a resolution tothe commission last month.

Referring to differences of legal opinion about the interpretation of the present business district zoning ordinance which does not permit gas stations at the Fenton Plaza site or define a parking gar-

C-1 zone as an accessory use to the two-level parking garage planned by developer Leslie C. Fenton as part of his shopping block now under construction at Ocean and Mission. Service stations are prohibited in the central business district under present zoning.

The appeal was filed by Attorney George Walker on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leidig, Mrs. Mary Goold, and by the lew firm of Montgomery and Jorgensen on behalf of Dale Leidig. Citizens signing the appeal were: Mrs. G. R. Walker, Clara B. Leidig, Fred Leidig, Carl Patnude, Barbara and Harry Lachmund, May McGrury, James B. McGrury, C. H. Grimshaw, Jr., George Falcoln, Mary Goold, Milton Eagleton, Herbert Heron, Jeanie Klenke, Isabel and Robert Leidig, C. A. De Camp, Belle H. De Camp, Edna Stenersen, Col. and Mrs. Philip Schneeberger, Lupe Ramos.

Building Committeemen Knight and Buffington were authorized by the council to negotiate further with Mrs. Arthur White, through her representative, August Nieto, for the purchase of two lots on Torres Street near Fourth Avenue.

The council is considering acquiring this property to enlarge its land holdings adjacent to the Carmel Youth Center, and possibly build a civic center there.

Mrs. White's asking price is $75,000 for both lots. The proper-(Continued on Page Four)

City Council Regards May's Yellow Traffic Boxes With Jaundiced Eye, Tables Proposal And Banishes Exhibit

"This is not a thing of beauty, and may not be a joy for even one day," Councilman Gunnar Norberg observed uneasily last night at City Hall as he eyed the bright yellow device standing on the table beside him.

Most of the other council members were inclined to agree with

May, Jr., at last night's regular meeting, the unpopular gadget looked like, and in some respects is, a poor relation of the parking meter. May explained that it was a "Traffic Courtesy Box," designed as a receptacle for parking violation fines.

"If these were installed in the business district," he said, "it would mean more money for the city. The weekend visitor who finds a ticket on his car could simply put the money in the envelope provided and drop it in the box."

May pointed out that visiting motorists who are perfectly willing to pay their fines are often unable to find the City Hall, and that if they do, it may be closed. They drive off-with the ticket in their pocket, he said, in many cases the city cannot collect the money.

"It looks a lot like the muchhated parking meter," Councilman Allen Knight said thoughtfully.

"Personally, I'm not at all of-Presented by Councilman Tom fended by the idea of trying it," May answered. "Salinas has tried it out and they are very happy with it. Several small towns, in the middle west are using them."

> "Small towns in the middle west?" Norberg echoed. "I can't see that that's much of a recommendation. Besides, I don't feel that I'd like to make life easier for weekend violators. I believe I could do without this thing for an indefinite period."

> Capital outlay would be under 20 dollars per box, May told council members. Installation would cost about ten dollars for each. The receptacle has a slot at the top like a mailbox, and is opened at the bottom with a key. Parking ticket envelopes would be designed to fit the box, and could also be used for payment by mail in the usual way. .

At this point objections were voiced on all sides.

CARMEL TOPS CCAL B-DIV. HOOP CHASE

Thanks to a big assist from the underdog Live Oak Acorns who upset King City last Friday night, the Carmel Padres took over undisputed possession of first place in the B-division CCAL basketball race. The Padres clobbered hapless San Lorenzo to maintain their lofty position atop the circuit while Pacific Grove got over Gonzales to deadlock King City for the runner-up spot.

This week's action finds the Padres traveling to Gonzales for a triple-header with the Spartans; King City gets a breather at San Lorenzo; and the Pacific Grove Breakers tackle upset-minded Live Oak. Live Oak has been the hot club in the league during the past few weeks, making the top ones scramble to beat them as they show improvement in every outing.

Carmel figures to pack too much tall stuff for the little Gonzales squad which gets beat on the boards in every game. The Spartans are swift and well-coached, but they lack the height to touch the top three in the league. With Carmel's Wilkin brothers, Russ Wise, and Toby Edson sweeping the boards, the small Spartans will only get one shot to three or four for the big Padres and that percentage doesn't make for winning basketball. The Padres have a couple of short ones in the back line but they are big cogs in the Red and Gray attack. Mike Draper and Fred Bucher or Dave Fuller are probably the best playmakers in the league and they have moneyplaying ability which pays off when the going is tough.

Coach Hadley Hicks' lightweight squad is still looking for its initial league win and tomorrow night might be the time to get the job done. The Little Spartans have been an in-and-out club so far this season but hold wins over Carmel, San Lorenzo, and King City. Starting for the win-hungry lightweight squad will be Pete dePetra, Jim Miles, John Odello, Steve Fairfield, and Frank Bucher.

Junior-varsity teams open tomorrow night's action at 5:30 as Coach Dick Lawitzke's charges try to keep their league record unsullied. The Padre reserves have won four straight in league play, beating Gonzales rather handily when the Spartans visited the Carmel pavilion. Coach Dick's opening lineup has Bob Little and Frank Mayo at forwards; Scott Forbes manning the pivot spot; and a guard duo of Mike Dunham and Paul Rice.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Manager Henry Overin took his Carmel Merchant basketball team to Soledad for a joust with the prison quintet last week and brought back a fine "fitness" report for the prisoners. The Merchants did a pretty good job during the first half, holding Soledad to a 36-32 margin. However, in the final period, the superior condition of the prisoners began paying off and their sizzling fast-break wore down the Merchants, 98 to 84. Prison guards should be alerted to the fact that the basketball squad is ready to "go"... Coach Pete

Last night the committee was instructed to negotiate with Mrs. White on the basis of a lease-purchase arrangement on one of two sets of terms: $10,000 per year for seven years, or $12,500 per year for five years.

Councilman Norberg urged that the city pay no more than $62,500, "including interest," for the lots.

"I think it's usual and fair to pay the customary interest," Jim Buffington said. "In the past we have missed opportunities to buy valuable land, and I think we have regretted it. This would complete a nice block for us."

"They have already rejected the bid you suggest, Mr. Norberg," Mayor John Chitwood pointed out. "I feel that this is an excellent

"Mrs. White has kept the property off the market for 90 days while we've been thinking it over," Buffington said. "If we don't want it, we should say so and let her put it back on the market."

Norberg's was the only dissenting vote on the motion to instruct the building committee to submit the new offers.

"And let me point out that the city has not completely shown its hand," the City Clerk added for the benefit of the audience. "It may seem that we have, but we haven't."

Francis Whitaker was commended for his patience last night, when the council voted to purchase a forge and a vise that he lent the city in 1942 and which have never been returned. Price was set at $182.50, one-half current replacement cost.

"I would like to stress the fact that the vise I provided the city with in 1942 is not spelled with a C," Whitaker quipped.

All new construction in the business district will be required to include underground electrical and telephone service connections, according to terms of an amendment of the Municipal Code to be given first reading at next month's meeting. The amendment will also include renovation work. Purpose of the new ruling is eventually to remove overhead wires from the streets.

two months' work in screening of architects is a function of the school board, not subject to review by the public.

The public will have ample opportunity to see plans the selected architects will prepare for the proposed school buildings, before the board accepts them.

Mel Bakeman, assistant county planning director, showed the school board a revised master plan for Carmel Valley and told them that the projected population for 1980 was 20,000. Using a low factor, eight -tenths student per family (state average is one and a half student per family) he arrived at an elementary school enrollment of 3294. (It is now 533) a junior high enrollment of 1019, and a high school enrollment, now 120, of 719. His recommendation for the Valley was one high school, one junior high, five elementary schools. This is one elementary school more than the board plans. The district already has two elementary schools in the Valley, site for a high school and elementary school at the mouth of the Valley, is seeking site for another elementary school within a mile of Tularcitos School and a site of a junior high school near the Farm Center.

Bakeman said his figures are based on the assumption that the acre building site minimum would continue in the valley. Reduction of the size of home sites would increase school population materially.

Dr. Grant Fletcher commented: "You can see what a stake we all have in keeping the acre minimum."

dous period of construction," Councilman May observed, "and now is the time to take the first step toward beautification of the business district. Most commercial structures cost $50,000 or more. Why not an extra thousand or so for underground connections, when the results are so worthwhile?"

An ordinance amendment was passed rescinding beach access restrictions for horseback riders and allowing them year-long use of the beach. Until now, riders have been required to approach the beach at the foot of Fourth Avenue, a ruling passed when Betty Greene operated the only stables in Carmel. Councilman Knight explained that riders from the Lynn Hodges. stables, at the south edge of town, have had to ride down Scenic Drive and across Ocean Avenue to comply with the law. COPA DE QUO

I watched and waited patiently
Hoping I'd behold;
A bud transformed into a flower
A glistening cup of gold.

As fragrance filled the air
I saw the petals slowly part,
A golden bud burst into bloom
Like sunshine on my heart.

-NEVA MCMURRAY

SHADOWS OF DISSOLUTION

What lonely shadows share each wintry lane
In strange companionship, unhallowed woes
And unsolved longings; limping ghouls of pain.
Here Pierrots of youth wear dominos
Of fated red as Pierrettes resist
Their hollow mirth. In Quaker-grey long rows
Of somber aspirations, clothed in mist,
Wear broken resolutions locked about each wrist.

These fleeting shadows are arrayed in rue
And heartsease, gliding by with elfin tread
To vanish with the dawn as minds renew
Kaleidoscopic dreams the hours have sped.
Upon a bough a linnet breaks the spell
Of poignancy which age-rebellion fed
And sunshine routes the shadows to foretell
Acceptance of a fate no hope can quell.

-LAURA JANET LARSON

PRAYER CIRCLE

At sunrise the quail begin calling, calling—
Spring rivulets, when waters start flowing and falling.
Songs well underfoot; run through brittle grass;
From high rocks flutelike echoes trickle and pass.

The melody fades, swells to ripples close by.

And quail in the grove sound a strong full reply.

Calls flush round the hills, sweep into the air

To meet in an arc as hands touch in prayer.

—PHOEBE W. HOFFMAN

COASTLINE, HIGHWAY ONE

The sun at water's end touches ten-thousand mirrors tossing on the sea;
and lays warm hands on mountains that sit hunched over like old giants with bent knees wading in the surf.

like a fluid flewing tide
gulfs the sun, the rocks, the sand,
the fellowship of gulls,
sound
Convoers of moisture break over the mountains—
those antiquated giants with shivering knees wading in a muffled unseen surf.

-OLIVIA YOUNG

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Our first of the year figuring shows some pleasant results. Over a five year period circulation work in this library has increased almost 59%. Work with children and young people has gone up 113%. Our staff is slightly larger and the building is the same size. Small wonder that at times we seem very busy and a little confused. Of course we aren't really confused. Certainly not!

This is a good week for those who enjoy biography. We have three new ones, all about interesting people. Christopher Sykes tells the story of the life of Orde Wingate, the Bristish commander whom Winston Churchill called a man of genius. Wingate was killed in 1944 at the age of 41 years. The book gives us his life and his campaigns and battles complete with maps and diagrams. For the military.

'In these days of atomic warheads and massive retaliation it seems almost an anachronism to speak of a man who was noted for the fearlessness of his saber charges, but such was the subject of our second biography, the man General George Custer. We learn that although he led many successful expeditions, it was the bloody battle of the Little Big Horn for which he is remembered. Author Jay Monaghan has tried to show us Custer's whole career, the complete man he was, the many sided personality of this controversial soldier. The book is entitled Cus-

Yet another military man is the subject of the third biography for this week. It is Peter Wessel, Norway's greatest sea hero. His exploits were accomplished during the days of the great sailing ships, the 18th century, when Norway was fighting Sweden in the ten year Baltic War. This book was written by Hans Christian Adamson and it is called Admiral Thunderbolt.

Carl Gustav Jung has a book in which he suggests that flying saucers may be a psychological phenomenon resulting from modern man's anxieties and not a physical manifestation at all. He does not answer the question which at once arises as to why these psychological manifestations show up on a radar screen. Perhaps another book.

A book written by 33 southern authorities on the various phases of life in the routh, both past and present, is his Is the South, It was edited by Robert Howard. Designed for northern readers, it attempts to explain the south and predict its shining future. Best for our purpose is the fact that the articles are well written and that they give us a glimpse of another way of life.

Before you plant the particular vine you have been thinking of, come in and borrow Frances Howard's new book, Landscaping With Vines. Surely all the vines used in landscaping are listed here, with illustrations which are drawings or photographs, and all the pertinent information needed to help you decide just which vine is for you.

The flu epidemic hit the library last week. We've been sort of hopping about on one leg hoping for the best. Bear with us.

Dr. Kathleen M. Elliott Lloyd of the New York University-Bellevue Medical Center and Dr. David P. C. Lloyd, member and professor of neurophysiology of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York City, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marion Gwenellen, to William H. Talbot. The wedding is planned for August.

Marion is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Lloyd who established a summer home in Carmel in 1911 and lived here permanently following Dr. Lloyd's retirement in 1935 from the faculty of McGill University, Montreal, Canada. She is also the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd of Carmel and has visited here in the past. Her cousins are Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis of Menlo Park; Second Lieutenant Francis P. Lloyd of Fort Gordon, Georgia; Lucinda Lloyd, student at the University of California at Davis, and Mardi Lloyd of Carmel.

After graduating from Great Neck High School, Long Island, Marion attended Jackson College at Tufts University and will receive her bachelor's degree in June from New York University. She plans to enter New York University Medical School in the fall.

Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Esther L. Talbot of West Warwick, Rhode Island, and of the late Reverend William H. Talbot, former pastor of the Jewett City Baptist Church in Griswold, Connecticut. He is a graduate of Norwich Free Academy and Brown University where he was affiliated with Sigma Nu fraternity. He is also an associate member of the Society of Sigma Xi and a member of Phi Beta Kappa honorary scholastic fraternity. At present he is a graduate fellow at the Rockefeller Institute studying towards a Ph. D. degree in neurophysiology.

Dr. David Lloyd, Marion's father, spent the greater part of his childhood in Carmel and during high school and college years acted in Forest Theater plays on summer vacations in Carmel. He is expected here on a visit the latter part of May.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Universal brotherhood will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services this Sunday. Peter's awakening to a higher sense of brotherhood highlights the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

The account of Peter's meeting with the centurion called Cornelius will be read, including the following: "Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him" (Acts 10:34,

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states in part: "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link to the greater, and in return, the higher always protects the lower. The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (518:13-19).

Court Carmel Mission Meeting

Court Carmel Mission, Catholic Daughters of America, will be the hostess group for a sectional meeting of CDA courts in the Monterey Diocese this evening at 8:00 o'clock in Crespi Hall at the Mission.

Court Carmel Mission will conduct a mock business meeting under the direction of their grand regent, Mrs. Ben Updike. Catholic Daughters of America State Grand Regent, Mrs. Edwin Clancy of Alameda, will be present, also Mrs. Hilarita Dorn of Fresno, state CDA chairman of education. Mistake Not To Do What Residents Want,

"It is the power of the planning commission to interprete the zoning ordinance, not by categorical law, but by human judgment. There is no criterion except your own judgment. You don't have to do anything. You don't have to decide yes or no."

He thought commissioners should adhere to the city council's denial of a gas station at the same development a year ago. They should also wait until the central district plan, now under study, is completed. Commissioners should wait till a new zoning ordinance, approved by the citizens and adopted by the council, decides where gas stations will be allowed in Carmel.

"Then there will be no question or quibble about what is good for Carmel," Admiral Fisher declared.

"Basically, a gas station is a gas station whether it is hidden behind flowers or out in the open," he concluded, after stating that the present request for a gas station at the Fenton Plaza "differed not one whit in essence" from the former gas pump request at the same site denied by the city coun-

Commissioners George Willox, Herbert Blanks, Lee Gottfried, Florence Josselyn and Hugh Smith then voted in favor of the gas station. Mrs. MacGregor, no.

Studio's Production Of Nude With Violin Has Opening Tonight

Opening tonight, Carmel's Studio Theatre will be Noel Coward's Nude With Violin, the newest offering from the pen of England's famous comedy craftsman. Richard Bailey, director of The Studio's production, announced that the play will run for four weekends, Thursday through Sunday, with curtain time at 8:30 o'clock each evening.

Starring in the presentation will be Jerry DeBono, young Peninsula writer and actor whose work has been seen on television during the last two years. In Nude With Violin DeBono will play Sebastien, the slightly unscrupulous, but always delightful, valet and linguist.

Among the DeBono productions which have been presented on the local stage are The Psyche of Diane O'Day, a satire on the television world, and Whoops, a musical comedy revue, which played last summer at The Studio, and 8 and Run, the previous summer.

Supporting characters in the large-cast show include Donna Todd, who has frequently starred in local productions of popular musical comedies, and Maria Hallsted, who will appear as Anya, the flamboyant Russian princess. Featured also will be Clifford Berry, Peg Phillips, Joseph Joseph, Dorothy Weston, France du Merci, Tito Macias, Reneta Blenn, Rod Allison, Phil Berger, Pat Ryan, and Jim Whittemore.

Council Regards May's Traffic Boxes With Jaundiced Eye

sponsible for collection from the boxes?" Councilman Knight wanted to know. "Besides, half the fun is arguing about your ticket with the pretty girl at the desk."

Knight, who is Police Commissioner, also pointed out that there is very little delinquency in collection of fines.

"I think you're getting into the province of the court," Police Chief Clyde Klaumann said. "Another thing to be considered is that this box calls for a smaller ticket. This will complicate the filing system, since it is made for citations of a standard size. And it's car turnover we want, not money. This makes it so easy that they'll leave the car where it is and be glad to pay the fine."

"Suppose the boxes are pilfered?" Councilman James Buffington, Jr., asked.

Councilman May suggested that a test box be installed at Ocean and Dolores.

"I move that we table this thing and take this thing off the table," Gunnar Norberg said, pointing to the box standing next to him. Knight seconded the motion, and the council prepared to go on to the next item on the agenda. The box remained where it was.

"I believe my motion including removing the exhibit," Norberg complained. It was taken away.

Mrs. Costa, who was in Fremont caring for her elderly mother, returned home immediately. A fourth daughter, Diane, 22, lives in Fremont.
